

British Commission for Maritime History

New Researchers in Maritime History Conference 2019

Centre for Port & Maritime History and
Liverpool John Moores University, Liverpool
22-23 March 2019

Call for Papers

The British Commission for Maritime History, in association with the Centre for Port & Maritime History and Liverpool John Moores University, invites contributions to its twenty-fifth conference for new researchers. Hosted by Liverpool John Moores University, the conference provides a unique opportunity for new scholars to present their work in this historic port.

The Conference supports emerging scholars who wish to share their work in a supportive environment and build relations with other maritime historians. We encourage applications from postgraduate students and warmly encourage participation by independent scholars. Contributions can address all aspects of maritime history in its broadest sense.

Those wishing to offer a paper should complete the online form available from <https://goo.gl/forms/3NIAZhERbptxtSTK2> or from the website www.maritimehistory.org.uk

Please direct any queries to newresearchers@maritimehistory.org.uk

The deadline is 18 January 2019

Anyone interested in attending the conference without presenting a paper is also warmly invited to register an interest; further information will be sent to you in due course.

The BCMH is the British branch of the International Commission for Maritime History, founded in 1965 as a constituent of the International Congress of Historical Sciences. Its mission is to advance the education of the public in the subject of maritime history.
