

New Researchers in Maritime History Conference 2020

Chatham Dockyard

27-28 March 2020

Call for Papers

The British Commission for Maritime History (BCMH), in association with the Chatham Historic Dockyard Trust, invites contributions to its twenty-sixth conference for new researchers. For 400 years the dockyard provided new ships and repair facilities for the Royal Navy, from sailing warships, steam warships to submarines. It is a wonderful location in which to hold this annual conference and provides a unique opportunity for new scholars to present their work in a historic setting.

The Conference, which is supported by the Society for Nautical Research, helps emerging scholars who wish to share their work in a supportive environment and build relations with other maritime historians. We encourage applications from postgraduate students and warmly encourage participation by independent scholars. Contributions can address all aspects of maritime history in its broadest sense.

Those wishing to offer a paper should complete the online form available from <https://forms.gle/mJZTBtEfjvuSFmw6>

or from the website www.maritimehistory.org.uk

Please direct any queries to newresearchers@maritimehistory.org.uk

The deadline is 28 February 2020

Anyone interested in attending the conference without presenting a paper is also warmly invited to register an interest; further information will be sent to you in due course.

The BCMH is the British branch of the International Commission for Maritime History, founded in 1965 as a constituent of the International Congress of Historical Sciences. Its mission is to advance the education of the public in the subject of maritime history.